Yser River in Monday
Attack.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
Gen. Brussiloff's offensive in Galicia is developing into a drive.

Yesterday's news of the capture of Halasz was followed today by the announcement that Gen. Korniloff's troops have pushed beyond Lesiuvka, southeast of Stanislaw, and occupied Kalusz, a city of 8,000 people, seven miles west of the Stozka river.

The Austro-German headquarters
in this sector were at Kalusz.

The Russians pushed into Halasz and are advancing through the city after taking many prisoners.

On West Front.

The German attack Monday on the Belgian coast stopped with the capture of small sectors east of the Yser.

On the Verdun front the German Crown Prince made a number of attacks on both banks of the Meuse, all being repulsed by the French.

ABLE FOR GOVERNMENT PURPOSES.

PRICES TO BE FIXED LATER

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

Washington, July 12—Announcement was made by Sec. Baker that an agreement had been reached with the American Steel Industry under which its entire product will be made available for government war purposes at a price to be determined on the basis of a cost-of-production inquiry being conducted by the federal trade commission.

Government representatives assured the steel men that all war orders would be distributed over the iron and steel companies, leaving no single firm to carry an unfair share of the war burden.

HOUSTON NAMED FOR ILLINOIS ARMY CAMP

NATIONAL GUARD WILL GO TO TEXAS SOON AFTER CALL
ON JULY 25

TO FACILITATE TRANSPORTATION

Springfield, July 12—Illinois will mobilize more than 20,000 guardsmen July 25 for the training camp at Houston, Tex., designated for this state, according to records in the office of Adjutant General Dickson, where plans are being made for military concentration.

This number will include two new hospital companies, the formation of which in Chicago was announced today.

It was also said four ambulance companies are being organized in Chicago.

Equipment is lacking for most of the units, Gen. Dickson stated, and probably will not be furnished until the men reached Texas. He said:
"We are ready, however, when the call comes."

Washington, July 12—It has been announced the Illinois division of the national guard will be sent to camp at Houston, Tex., after it is called out July 25, for intensive training in preparation for service in the fighting line in France.

The Michigan and Wisconsin division was assigned to camp at Waco, Tex., and the Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Dakotas division to camp at Deming, N. M. No assignment was made for the Indiana-Kentucky division.

Gen. Mann Explains Change

This is a change from the tentative selections made a week or so ago. The Illinois and the Michigan-Wisconsin divisions have changed places. Gen. Mann, chief of the militia bureau, explained the change
as one designed to meet the transportation difficulties. He found that the Illinois division could be sent direct to Houston as a divisional unit, either over the Illinois Central to New Orleans and thence to Houston by the Southern Pacific, or direct to Houston via the International and Great Northern and Iron Mountain.

Since the Michigan and Wisconsin division is separated by Lake Michigan, necessitating entrainment
as company or regimental units from widely scattered points, the need of direct rail connections was not considered so important.

ASK PRESIDENT TO HELP FOOD MEASURE

SENATE LEADERS SEE INABIL-ITY OF RECONCILING
OPINIONS.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

Washington, July 12—Democratic senate leaders, finding it almost impossible to reconcile conflicting views on the food control bill, today decided to appeal to President Wilson to outline his opinion of what compromises should be agreed upon to hasten action on the measure.

The senate agricultural committee today decided not to make any recommendation concerning the Gore substitute bill. Senator Gore planned, however, to offer it as an individual proposition, with the understanding that many of its provisions will have support in lieu of those in the pending measure.

AUTOS ARE PLENTIFUL

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
Washington, July 12—There is an automobile for every 23 inhabitants in this country according to figures for last year made public by the federal bureau today.

EVERS TO PHILLIES

Philadelphia, July 12—Johnnie Evers, former captain of the Boston National league club, today closed a deal whereby he becomes a member of the Philadelphia team. He will play second base, beginning Monday.

ARMY DRAWING MAY BE DELAYED A WEEK

INDICATIONS ARE IT MAY BE LATTER PART OF NEXT WEEK.

REASON FOR SECRECY GIVEN

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

Washington, July 12—Persistent inquiries for information concerning the method to be followed in the selective draft caused the war department to explain today that President Wilson's determination to have absolute fairness attend the drawing has caused the withholding of announcement of details.

The exemption regulations have received the approval of the president and the draft regulations will come also from the white house.

All that is known now is that the draft will come in serial numbers and will be conducted in Washington as far but 21 states have reported to the provost marshal general's office completion of registration work.
Indications today were it might be the latter part of next week before everything is in readiness for the drawing.

HAVE BABY DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Penrose of Chicago are the parents of a daughter, born July 10. Mr. Penrose is a former Dixon boy and has many friends here who will extend congratulations.

ILLINOIS' $60,000,000 ROAD SYSTEM

INCORPORATE R.R. WHICH MAY TAP WESTERN LEE CO.

GALESBURG, ROCKFORD & NOR-THERN R. R. CO. GETS LE-GAL CHARTER.

FROM GALSBURG TO ROCKFORD

Promoters Plan To Take Over Old
Tampico-Yorktown
Line.

(Special to Telegraph) b

Springfield, July 12—The Galesburg, Rockford & Northern Railroad Co. was today incorporated by Secretary of State Emmerson, to construct a railroad from Galesburg to Rockford, passing through the counties of Knox, Henderson, Bureau, Whiteside, Lee, Ogle and Winnebago.

The principal offices of the company are in Chicago and its capital stock is $200,000, the incorporators being E. L. Tobie of Monmouth and R. J. Kerr, S. Kerr and E. M. Redout,
all of Chicago.

The above dispatch tells of the completion of legal steps for the possible construction of a steam road, which may tap Lee county in its western part. Whether the plans of the engineers provide for running into Dixon is not known, but it is believed, if the line is built, it will pass thru the west part of the county.

Plans of the promoters are to take over the Tampico-Yorktown line which has had a most unprofitable existence, and extend it in both directions, thus tapping territory without north and south railroad facilities, and having two large cities as its terminals.

linois for conscription purposes is

Cook county for the same purpose is fixed at 4,910,495.

tails of an alleged plot by German

ing up allied-owned oil fields.

GETS REPORT ON HIS QUITTING.

GERMAN CRISIS UNSETTLED

(Associated Press)

Berne, Switzerland, July 12—The Bosische Zeitung of Berlin says the German Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, has resigned.
Emperor William, the paper adds, has postponed his decision whether to accept the resignation.

Berne, July 12—An official communication issued in Berlin says Emperor William expressed an opinion that the political and constitutional reform demanded by the reichstag are such that they concern not only himself but his successors. For this reason the emperor summoned the crown prince to attend one or more of the crown councils, at which final decision on the concessions the government will make will be reached.

Emperor William had an interview
lasting several hours with Bethmann Hollweg yesterday and received his report on the political situation in Germany, according to dispatches.

ROCHELLE
A kite made up in the national colors with "Old Glory" floating in the breeze from the leash, a steel wire, attracted considerable attention in the business district late Saturday afternoon. The kite was flown from the vicinity of the Geo. D. Whitcomb Co. shops and rose to quite a height over the southeastern part of the city.

County Treasurer William P. Delaney of Oregon spent the weekend in Rochelle and attended the baseball game Sunday afternoon.

Attorney Clarence E. Gardner is building a log cabin on his timberland which he recently purchased of the Orlando Reed estate. The cabin is being erected on a cleared space on a hill which affords an excellent view of the preserve. A spacious fire place will be built of nigger heads large enough to burn a four foot log. Kite Creek flows through a beautiful woodland and an excellent spring flows out of the hillside. The creek at this point affords excellent fishing and the dense woods a fairly good place to hunt. The cabin will probably be opened about July 4th. The land is located just this side of Chana.

The playground work has been started under the direction of Miss Mary Kirby and Miss Ruth Southworth. The movement is sponsored by the Rochelle Women's club and has been growing in interest each year.

Harold Neff, who is preparing himself for the medical profession, has entered the University of Illinois for the summer term.

A. C. Anders and family are planning to move to Macomb in a few weeks time. Mr. Anders has secured the position of station agent for the Burlington.

On July Fourth the Chicago Mutuals play on the home lot.

On July 8th, the Chicago Merrimacs, one of the very best travelling clubs has been booked for Rochelle.

On July 22d the Dubuque White Sox will function at East Side park in a return game.

John W. Gorby of Chicago has been secured to deliver an address on Patriotism in this city on July Fourth. A band concert will be held in the business section in the evening.

On Tuesday evening an ice cream social was held at Walter Gale's on Route 5, and was well attended. There were over 50 automobiles parked on the grounds and about 150 people in attendance. Mayor W. B. McHenry spoke and an orchestra from Rochelle furnished the music. The proceeds was turned over to the Rochelle Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Novel Use of Handkerchiefs.
With the Jacobite revolution of 1745 in England Pelham, bethinking himself of an old device which had served the government so well in the most critical period of Anne's reign, caused to be printed on several thousand handkerchiefs portraits of those of the young pretender's adherents who had escaped and were in hiding. These portraits, sent all over the country and hung upon every blank wall, led to the capture and execution of many fugitives.

Juice of Lemons!

How to Make Skin
White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of starch water. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows the lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothening and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of starch water at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smooth rough, red hands.

Attended House Party.

Three Dixon young ladies, Misses Dorothy Hall, Ethel Rhodes and Esther Lapham, on Tuesday evening left on a quite lengthy hike to the Ambrose farm, near Pennsylvania Corners, where Miss Ambrose gave a house party in honor of Miss Ethel Waterbury, T. N., of Chicago. The party attended a supper given at the Christian church, Pennsylvania Corners, that evening. The Dixon young ladies hiked the entire distance from Pennsylvania Corners on their return Wednesday, arriving here in the afternoon and barely escaping a short rain storm which came up suddenly. A most enjoyable time is reported and Miss Ambrose was pronounced a lovely entertainer.

Prairieville Social Circle

Mrs. Clarence Lenox entertained very pleasantly Wednesday the members of the Prairieville Social Circle and seven other guests, relatives and friends from Dixon, at the regular all day meeting of the circle. Quilt blocks were made by the members when they were not otherwise occupied with the excellent scramble luncheon, served at noon, or the transaction of business after dinner. It was decided at the business session that there would be no more meetings until September. Miss Louise Hobbs, the hostess' little niece from Dixon, entertained the guests after the business session, with two charmingly rendered vocal selections and all sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in closing the session.

Galena Avenue, took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Dr. F. D. Altman, the pastor, performed the ceremony, using the ring service. The bride was beautifully attired in a sand colored tulle dress with hat and coat matching. The honeymoon will be spent in Chicago. The bride's parents witnessed the ceremony.

Miss Covert is a native of this county. Her people were for years substantial farmers in Palmyra and retiring a year ago, now make their home here. THE KITCHEN CABINET

A generous supply of vegetables and fruits are of the greatest importance for the normal development of the body and of all its functions.—Sherman.

LOW-COST DISHES.

A most satisfying dish to be used as a main dish for luncheon or dinner is macaroni. In combination with a cupful of left-over roast, well minced, or a half cupful of grated cheese with either white sauce or a sauce made by using the broth made from two or three of the steak bones, with proper seasoning, such as onion juice, a bit of chopped celery or parsley, this dish may be varied in several ways and still prove good. Tomato sauce is another well-liked combination, also. The macaroni should be cooked until tender, then place a layer of it in a buttered baking dish, then sprinkle over it a little chopped onion and bits of meat, or two or three hard-boiled eggs, then a generous covering of white sauce, and if the eggs are used, a little cheese adds to the flavor, but with meat this is not needed.

Bean Fricassee.—Boil a pound of lima beans or simmer them until tender, as boiling is not advisable for dried beans. Drain them. Brown a tablespoonful of butter in a pan and add the beans, stirring until thoroughly seasoned. Add a little minced parsley, salt and pepper. Stir in a cupful of cream or milk and let it stew for a few minutes; then season with mushroom or tomato catchup and a little vinegar.

Rice Espanol.—Cook a cupful of rice in a cupful of actively boiling water for 15 minutes, then drain. Slice two medium-sized onions, two green peppers and two cupfuls of stewed tomatoes. Put the mixture in a buttered baking dish, add salt and pepper, sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake covered for 20 minutes.

Nut Loaf.—Take a pint of bread crumbs, and mix well with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter; add a teaspoonful of salt, a half cupful of nut meats, a dash of pepper and some poultry dressing, with two eggs beaten light. Form into a loaf and bake in a shallow pan a half hour. Serve with tomato sauce.

Rice served hot with grated cheese makes a good substitute for potatoes, and buttered rice with minced parsley will take the place of parsley potatoes.

Had Courage of His Convictions.

Francis Bacon, who was born in London January 22, 1560, had an aversion for dueling, a practice prevalent in England in his day, observes a writer in the Washington Post. He lived from 1580 to 1626. The great essayist made an address against dueling, in star chamber session in proceedings against two men—one for writing and sending a challenge, the other for delivering it. Bacon was then king's attorney general.

RUSSIANS ROLL UP TEUTON LINE
Petrograd, July 12.—Sweeping onward west of Halicz in their mighty offensive against the Teutonic allies in Galicia, the Russian troops are pursuing the retreating force. Two thousand prisoners and thirty guns were captured when Halicz, the key to Lemberg, capital of Galicia, was taken by General Tcheremistoff's troops. But the victorious troops did not stop there. They pressed on, giving the retreating Teutons no rest. The valley of the river Lomnica was reached. Advanced detachments crossed the river. The villages of Bludniki and Bebin were occupied. The retreating Teutons are being pursued on the Bogorodchan-Solotvina front. The Russians have reached the Posiecz-Besluvka-Kosmacz line.
The advance on Bogorodchan-Solotvina is twenty-two miles southwest of Stanislaw. It is about twenty miles from the rest of the Carpathians along the Galician-Hungarian border.
10,000 Taken in Three Days.
In the three days battle from July 8 to 10, more than 150 officers and 10,000 men, eighty guns, twelve of them of heavy calibre, and a large number of trench mortars and machine guns with quantities of military stores were taken by the troops of General Korniloff.
The war office report of the continued success of the Russian troops threw Petrograd into a wild state of rejoicing. Crowds paraded the streets. Everywhere praise is being sung for the new hero of Galicia, General Korniloff.
Man of the People Rises.
The public now knows that the new Russian offensive is not a flash in the pan. General Korniloff's name is on every one's lips. Born in a log cabin, his rise is practically unparalleled in Russian history. He is forty-six years old. Son of a Cossack in Siberia, at thirteen he entered the Siberian cadets corps. In the Japanese war he was a colonel.
He it was who covered the retreat of General Kuropatkin's shattered armies from Mukden. He is the most daring, chivalrous and scholarly officer in the army. He has command of all European languages. He was taken prisoner in Galicia in 1915. The Austrians returned him his sword. He made a daring escape from the Austrian prison camp.

CAN SURPLUS FRUIT

In riding over northern Illinois one would imagine that northern Illinois will have enough cherries to supply the entire country and have a surplus for the allies. None of these should be wasted. Those that cannot be used at once should be canned, and there should be a generous supply of canned cherries next winter. D. F. Houson, secretary of agriculture, issues an appeal to householders to dry surplus fruits and vegetables. His appeal follows:

Every housewife this year should restore the overlooked industry of canning, preserving, pickling and drying of fruits and vegetables. The many back-yard gardens that have been planted this year will soon yield beans, peas, carrots, beets, sweet corn and tomatoes. The regular supply also will reach the markets and as sometimes happens each summer, the local supply will at times exceed immediate consumption. Not to conserve much of this surplus would be sinful waste.

The present food and labor situations are such that no household is justified in looking to others to release it wholly from individual responsibility and constructive action in saving and conserving food. All any home should expect of others is to supply those foods which can not be produced effectively by its own members. Railroads will be burdened with transportation of staple foods and military necessities from localities of production and manufacture to districts incapable of supplying their own needs. It follows that all locally produced foods, conserved by home methods, lessen the winter pressure on transportation agencies and also release similar products of factories for other purposes.

I urge every household, therefore, to can all surplus perishable products for which they have containers and to dry and keep in paper any additional surplus suitable for such preservation.

This is the season of the year when you are supposed to go out in the woods, lugging a basket, and sit down on the grass with the mosquitoes and have deviled eggs and pickles and paper napkins and June bugs, and they call it a picnic.

When the Russians make a drive, the allies on the western front stop and rest, and when they get ready for a drive on the western front, the Russians are all tired out. Now, all together, boys.

A boy was accidentally shot at a picnic the other day, which shows, says the paragrapher, the danger of being a boy at a picnic.

Russia's growing offensive must be particularly offensive to Kaiser Bill just now.

"Take the Chair."
When one moves that So and So take the chair, especially if he is a Scot, he should remember that at one time such a thing was considered a right royal luxury. In the middle ages a table was only a board on trestles, there was only one chair at the head of the board, at which the host sat, the rest of the company sat on benches. This custom was the origin of the expression referred to.

WILSON DENOUNCES GREEDY PROFITEERS
One Price for All President Demands of Producers.
Washington, July 12.—President Wilson appealed to the country's business interests to put aside every selfish consideration and to give their aid to the nation as freely as those who go out to offer their lives on the battlefield.
In a statement addressed to the coal operators and manufacturers he gave assurances that just prices will be paid by the government and the public during the war, but warned that no attempt to extort unusual profits will be tolerated.
"Your patriotism," said the President's appeal, "is the same self-denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead and maimed on the fields of France, or it is no patriotism at all. Let us never speak then, of profits and patriotism in the same sentence."
"I shall expect every man who is not a slacker to be at my side throughout this great enterprise. In it no man can win honor who thinks of himself."
The President declared there must be one price for the government and for the public.

HAYING TOOLS

We carry in stock the very highest grade of Manila Rope in sizes from 1-4 to 7-8 inch and are selling it for less than it costs today in car-load lots at mill.

If You Need a New Hay Carrier--see our Big No. 170

It has very large pulleys which make it easier on the rope. The track wheels have a wide spread, thus distributing the load over a longer space of track. The fork pulley goes up into the throat of the carrier so that the load on the fork is carried well up to the track. This is a very desirable carrier and runs on the genuine Ney track which we have sold almost exclusively for the past 25 years.

We have horse and hand hay forks in plentiful supply.

We often wonder if women appreciate the low prices we have on aluminum and graniteware. We loaded up heavily on these goods while they were cheap and with the exception of a few articles which we have had to buy lately are much below the market.

HOSE—Now is the time to save your lawn and garden from dry weather. We have hose and sprinklers. Our prices on these are same as last year.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—On a trip through the English Cumberland country the breakdown of her automobile forces Louise Maurel, a famous London actress, to spend the night at the farm home of John and Stephen Strangeaway.

CHAPTER II—At dinner Louise discovers that the brothers are woman-hating recluses.

CHAPTER V.

Once more that long, winding stretch of mountain road lay empty under the moonlight. Up the long slope, where three months before he had ridden to find himself confronted with the adventure of his life, John Strangeaway jogged homeward in his high dogcart. The mare, scenting her stable, broke into a quick trot as they topped the long rise. Suddenly she felt a hand tighten upon her reins. She looked inquiringly around, and then stood patiently awaiting her master's bidding.

It seemed to John as if he had passed from the partial abstraction of the last few hours into absolute and entire forgetfulness of the present. He could see the motorcar drawn up by the side of the road, could hear the fretful voice of the maid, and the soft, pleasant words of greeting from the woman who had seemed from the first as if she were very far removed indeed from any of the small annoyances of their accident.

"I have broken down. Can you help?" He set his teeth. The poignancy of the recollection was a torture to him. Word by word he lived again through that brief interview. He saw her descend from the car, felt the touch of her hand on his arm, saw the flush of her brown eyes as she drew close to him with that pleasant little air of familiarity, shared by no other woman he had ever known.

Then the little scene faded away, and he remembered the tedious present. He had spent two dull days at the house of a neighboring land owner, playing cricket in the daytime, dancing at night with women in whom he was unable to feel the slightest interest, always with that faraway feeling in his heart, struggling hour by hour with that curious restlessness which seemed to have taken a permanent place in his disposition.

He was on his way home to Peak Hall. He knew exactly the welcome which was awaiting him. He knew exactly the news he would receive. He raised his whip and cracked it viciously in the air.

Stephen was waiting for him, as he had expected, in the dining room. The elder Strangeaway was seated in his accustomed chair, smoking his pipe and reading the paper. The table was laid for a meal, which Jennings was preparing to serve.

"Back again, John?" his brother remarked, looking at him fixedly over his newspaper.

John picked up one or two letters, glanced them over, and flung them down upon the table. He had examined every envelope for the last few months with the same expectancy, and thrown each one down with the same throb of disappointment.

"As you see," "Had a good time?" "Not very. Have they finished the barley fields, Stephen?"

"All in at eight o'clock." "There was a brief silence. Then Stephen knocked the ashes from his pipe and rose to his feet.

"John," he asked, "why did you pull up on the road there?"

There was no immediate answer. The slightest of frowns formed itself upon the younger man's face.

"How did you know that I pulled up?"

"I was sitting with the window open, listening for you. I came outside to see what had happened, and I saw your lights standing still."

"I had a fancy to stop for a moment," John said; "nothing more."

"You aren't letting your thoughts dwell upon that woman?"

"I have thought about her sometimes," John answered, almost defiantly. "What's the harm? I'm still here, am I not?"

Stephen crossed the room. From the drawer of the old mahogany sideboard

An anger that was almost paralyzing, a sense of the utter impotence of words, drove John in silence from the room. He left the house by the back door, passed quickly through the orchard, where the tangled moonlight lay upon the ground in strange, fantastic shadows; across the narrow strip of field, a field now of golden stubble; up the hill which looked down upon the farm buildings and the churchyard.

He sat grimly down upon a great boulder, filled with a hateful sense of unrequited passion, yet with a sheer thankfulness in his heart that he had escaped the miasma of evil thoughts which Stephen's words seemed to have created. The fancy seemed to him to face those half-veiled suggestions of his brother, so far as they concerned himself and his life during the last few months.

Stephen was right. This woman who had dropped from the clouds for those few brief hours had played strange havoc with John's thoughts and his whole outlook upon life. The coming of harvest, the care of his people, his sports, his cricket, the early days upon the grouse moors, had all suddenly lost their interest for him. Life had become a task. The echo of her half-mocking, half-challenging words was always in his ears.

He set with his head resting upon his hands, looking steadfastly across the valley below. Almost at his feet lay the little church with its graveyard, the long line of stacks and barns, the laborers' cottages, the bailiff's house, the whole little colony around which his life seemed centered. The summer moonlight lay upon the ground almost like snow. He could see the sheaves of wheat standing up in the most distant of the cornfields. Beyond was the dark gorge toward which he had looked so many nights at this hour.

Across the viaduct there came a blaze of streaming light, a serpentine trail, a faintly heard whistle—the Scottish express on its way southward toward London. His eyes followed it out of sight. He found himself thinking of the passengers who would wake the next morning in London. He felt himself suddenly acutely conscious of his isolation. Was there not something almost monastic in the seclusion which had become a passion with Stephen, and which had his grip, too, upon him—a waste of life, a burying of talents?

He rose to his feet. The half-formed purpose of weeks held him now, definite and secure. He knew that this pilgrimage of his to the hilltop, his rapt contemplation of the little panorama which had become so dear to him, was in a sense valedictory.

After all, two more months passed before the end came, and it came then without a moment's warning. It was a little past midday when John drove slowly through the streets of Market Ketton in his high dogcart, exchanging salutations right and left with the tradespeople, with farmers brought into town by the market, with acquaintances of all sorts and conditions. More than one young woman from the shop windows or the pavements ventured to smile at him, and the few greetings he received from the wives and daughters of his neighbors were as gracious as they could possibly be made. John almost smiled once, in the net of raising his hat, as he realized how completely the whole charm of the world, for him, seemed to lie in one woman's eyes.

At the crossways, where he should have turned to the inn, he paused while a motorcar passed. It contained a woman, who was talking to her host. She was not in the least like Louise, and yet instinctively he knew that she was of the same world. The perfection of her white-serve costume, her hat so smartly worn, the half-insolent smile, the little gesture with which she raised her hand—something about her unlocked the floodgates.

Market Ketton had seemed well enough a few minutes ago. John had felt a healthy appetite for his midday meal, and a certain interest concerning a deal in barley upon which he was about to engage. And now another world had him in its grip. He flicked the mare with his whip, turned away from the inn, and galloped up to the station, keeping pace with the train whose whistle he had heard. Standing outside was a local horse dealer of his acquaintance.

"Take the mare back for me to Peak Hall, will you, Jenkins, or send one of your lads?" he begged. "I want to catch this train."

The man assented with pleasure—it paid to do a kindness for a Strangeaway. John passed through the ticket

Arizona Peopled Ages Ago. There are ruins in Arizona that prove beyond a doubt that it was peopled generations before the pyramids of Egypt were erected. Of course, outside of these ruins we know nothing of these prehistoric tribes, but the evidence of their occupation are with us.

The Very Best. Best—"And is she a good housewife?" Jane—"A pippin! Why, the poor chap has no comfort whatever!"—Life.

Trading With Enemy Act Passed. Washington, July 12.—The house passed the "trading with the enemy" act, giving the President broad powers to prohibit trading with enemy firms or with firms allied with enemies of the United States.

Tree Grows Around Boards. In the interior of an old maple tree cut down in South Newfane, Vt., on Frank C. Kelsey's land, were found pieces of the ends of an old board fence with nails which fastened it to the tree when it was much smaller. The tree had grown outside the nails and ends of board six inches or more.

Ship Valued at $3,000,000. The vessel was valued at $3,000,000. She carried a cargo of flour and other foodstuffs, together with 4,000 tons of steel, which, valued in all at $2,000,000, was consigned to the French government. A majority of her crew were Americans.

The sites have been made ready for the men and all that remains is for them to put up their tents and begin the short course of intensive training which will precede their transportation to France.

Training camps will be as follows: Michigan and Wisconsin national guard at Waco, Tex.; Illinois at Houston, Tex.; Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska at Deming, N. M.; Kansas and Missouri at Fort Sill, Okla.; Texas and Oklahoma at Fort Worth, Tex.; California, Utah, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico at Linda Vista, Cal.; Washington, Oregon and Montana at Palo Alto, Cal.

Love Means Possession. Love means possession! Teach a child to love his pet and he will learn to love you better. Let him have all the care and responsibility of that pet; let him observe the pet's curious little traits, its original ways, and if the pet suffers or dies let him be in full sympathy with it. Love is full of heart pains and it will develop him for a higher love.—Exchange.

SHIP LOSS LESS; U. S. BOAT SUNK

Kansan, Worth $3,000,000 with $2,000,000 Cargo, Hit.

VICTIM HAD FORMER MISHAP

Only Four of Crew Are Considered Lost—Most of Men Americans—Carried Foodstuffs Consigned to French Government—Was of 7,913 Gross Tons.

London, July 12.—Only fourteen British merchant vessels of more than 1,500 tons were sunk by German submarines in the past week, says the weekly report of shipping losses issued by the admiralty.

Three ships of less than 1,500 tons and seven fishing vessels were also sunk.

Toll Next to Lowest.

The increasing effectiveness of the measures against submarines which are being carried out by British and American warships is shown in the record of the last week. With one exception the number of merchantmen sunk is the lowest of any week since the British inaugurated in March the system of giving out weekly reports.

The report of March 11 showed seventeen merchantmen sunk, the same total as is shown in the last week's summary. The preceding report gave the sinking of fifteen vessels, 1,500 tons, and five under that size. In the two earlier periods the totals were respectively 23 and 32. This compares with the sinking of 40 large merchantmen in one week and 38 in another at the height of the campaign in April. In the week ended April 21 55 vessels in all were sunk.

Kansan Torpedoed. Washington, July 12.—State department dispatches announcing destruction of the Kansan by a German submarine, said that four members of the crew were missing, but all the armed naval guard was safe. All of those on board were reported landed except the following four members of the crew, who are considered lost:

First Assistant Engineer J. E. Murphy, American; F. Aguirre, English; A. P. Kua of Honolulu and C. Hanan of Singapore.

Kansan Is Sunk Off France. New York, July 12.—The American steamship Kansan, carrying a crew of fifty men, has been sunk, presumably off the French coast, according to a cablegram received here by the French and Canada Steamship company, which chartered the vessel. The fate of those on board is not known.

The Kansan was valued at $3,000,000 and was of 7,913 tons gross.

Struck a Mine Last December. The Kansan, owned by the American-Hawaiian Steamship company, struck a mine off the French coast last December. She was then reported as sunk, but was salvaged, and returned to New York in April, where she remained until she started out again in June. In October, 1916, the Kansan was held up by German submarine U-53 off Nantucket and was allowed to proceed after the U-boat captain learned her identity. At that time the submarine was raiding shipping off the American coast.

Formerly the Massachusetts, the Kansan was built in Camden, N. J., in 1903.

Ship Valued at $3,000,000. The vessel was valued at $3,000,000. She carried a cargo of flour and other foodstuffs, together with 4,000 tons of steel, which, valued in all at $2,000,000, was consigned to the French government. A majority of her crew were Americans.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Dixon Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache.

You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof of merit in this Dixon man's testimony:

John H. Fulk, 519 W. Seventh Street, says: "I am a shoe-cutter by trade and have to be standing in front of a cutting machine. There is a great deal of jarring in connection with this work and I am sure that is what caused my kidneys to get out of order. I was completely down and out and unable to work for ten days. I could hardly move, my back pained so terribly and I couldn't lift the least weight. The kidney secretions passed too freely and it was annoying to have to get up so often at night to pass them. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Prescott & Schildberg's Drug Store. After using them, the trouble disappeared."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Fulk had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
